

SOCIAL SCIENCES AND LAW

Master in Advocacy

Description

This University Master, taught jointly by the Law Faculty at the University of Cadiz and the Distinguished Bar Association of Jerez de la Frontera, meets the training requirements established by Law 34/2006 and R.D. 775/2011 to work in Advocacy. It includes training in the specific professional skills required to achieve the joint accreditation of the Ministries of Education and Justice, as well as a period of external work experience. The coordination of these two training elements is essential in the preparation of graduates to face the final assessment exam which authorises their preparation to subsequently work in this profession.

Access profile

Higher degree or degree in Law or an equivalent university degree qualification that meets the requirements established in article 3 of the Royal Decree 775/2011, of the 3rd June, which approves the Regulations of Law 34/2006, of the 30th October; on access to the professions of Lawyer and Barrister, and similar foreign qualifications that meet the access requirements.

Professional opportunities

Offers the training required to work in Advocacy in accordance with the laws in force.
